Cachet Estate Homes was named Home Builder of the Year (2004) by the Greater Toronto Home Builder's Association as the climax to their annual Home Builder Awards Gala held on Friday, May 6th. More than 900 home builders, developers, renovators and associate members were in attendance. The prestigious Home Builder of the Year Award goes to the builder who sets the standard for the rest of the industry in terms of quality, service and customer commitment. An independent survey of all home builder of the year finalists is a key component of the judging process.

The family owned and operated Cachet Estate Homes has a strong commitment to customer service. This was clear in their purchasers' responses to a ten question, 100 point survey covering everything from the sales process through to after-sales service.

"Cachet Estate Homes is a professional organization and they seem to care about their customers", remarked another. "Cachet builds what it promises and we get many compliments on the unique floorplan and truly substantial standard finishes", commented a third homebuyer.
